Brushes

Brush sizes change depending on brand, these below are a good size for loose, expressive marks. They are also economical brushes that have a good shelf life and work well with acrylic and oil. http://www.dickblick.com/products/winsor-and-newton-long-handle-university-brushes/? clickTracking=true2

- 1 Windsor and Newton University Bright #6 Series 237 less than $\frac{1}{2}$ " (if painting on 4x4"s)
- 1 Windsor and Newton University Bright #8 Series 237 about $\frac{1}{2}$ "
- 1 Windsor and Newton University Bright #12 Series 237 about 1"

Or Flat Silver Bristlon brushes #6, #8, #12 https://www.jerrysartarama.com/silver-brush-bristlon-all-media-brushes

Misc

Weekly Planner (we like this one but use any you have at home) Paper towels Spray bottle for water - a travel hairspray bottle for a fine mist is recommended Disposable palette (the larger the better) View Catcher http://www.dickblick.com/products/viewcatcher/?clickTracking=true

Still life objects - fruit, vegetables, vessels, fabric - we are painting small panels, so make sure objects/vases are on the smaller size - small jars like honey, mustard, etc. work great.

Empty container for water to wash brushes in - anything will do Easel, tabletop or freestanding - Our setup is from http://artboxandpanel.com/ Panel Holder (optional) - http://www.krikegallery.com/CarolMarinepanelholder.html Or a larger masonite panel and mounting putty to attach your smaller panels to it.

Light source

If setting up your own still lifes it is important to have a strong light source

Spot light (clip on, from hardware store is fine) with strong Light Bulb - Sylvania, Halogen - 50 Watt Spot light can be purchased at Stop and Shop - anything that makes a bright, clean light.

This is a very good alternative, CeSunlight Clamp Desk Lamp, Clip on Reading Light, 3000-6500K Adjustable Color Temperature, 6 Illumination Mode from Amazon https://a.co/d/6vV3PI7
